CRP Industries Names Scott Shea as New Chief Operating Officer

- Responsibilities include supply chain management, operations, and industrial sector growth -

Cranbury, NJ...CRP Industries Inc., a leader in automotive parts and industrial products, has named Scott Shea as their new Chief Operating Officer (COO). Daniel N. Schildge, CEO of CRP Industries Inc., who noted that this was a newly created executive role in the company, made the announcement. As COO, Shea will be responsible for supply chain management, operations, the CRP Industrial Group and CRP de Mexico.

In making the announcement, Daniel N. Schildge noted, "We are positioning CRP Industries for long term growth and the potential for integrating future business opportunities. Scott Shea will play a key role in helping us to not only continue the momentum that we have built here at CRP, but also help us to achieve our goals for growth and expansion. Scott brings us a wealth of experience and expertise in leading high performing, medium-size companies serving mass market and independent retailers, wholesale distributors, and end users."

Scott Shea comes to CRP Industries after serving as the Chief Operating Officer for Astriva, LLC since 2010. Astriva specializes in retail store operations, wholesale distribution, and corporate development. Prior to that, Shea worked for CSS Industries, Inc., serving as the Divisional President for Berwick Offray, LLC. Before joining CSS Industries, Shea spent 14 years at E.I. DuPont where he held several management and engineering positions.

Scott Shea holds a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering from Michigan State University. Shea is also a current member of the Board of Trustees for the Berwick Hospital Center (Berwick, PA) and the Berwick YMCA (Berwick, PA). He was also a past Chairman of the Berwick Chamber of Commerce.
